FALL

FALL ON OUR CAMPUS MEANS

- ... Leaving home for the first time to some
- ... Get acquainted sessions
- ... Trying to overcome feelings of newness and homesickness
- ... Returning to a familiar place for others
- ... Renewing old acquaintances
- ... Long registration lines, returning to class for all
- ... First day in class jitters
- ... Deciding on which way to go ... devising time charts — balancing time between work and fun — choosing the best committee or club for membership
- ... Electing class officers and developing class projects
- ... Signing up for a good leisure time activity — sewing, photography, drama, jewelry making, yoga ...
- ... Taking time out for a twilight concert or an arts festival
- ... Seniors filing applications for the big day in May
- ... Freshmen choosing the best major for them, others changing majors
- ... Having new people added to the Board of Trustees
- ... Football, the marching band, fall lines, and Homecoming add to the Fall's breathtakingly colorful radiance on our campus
- ... Come, let us share the first season of our year with you ...

WINTER

WINTER ON OUR CAMPUS MEANS . . .

- Pulling out heavy coats, boots, toboggans, wool scarves, and gloves.
- Total commitment to the university's basketball programs and cheering the Rams on to victory. C-I-Double-A C-I-Double-A.
- Developing campus and community Christmas projects.
- Withdrawing the very last of summer's cash from the bank, shopping for Christmas and heading for home.
- Long awaited snow finally falls heavily on the trees, creating a campus winter wonderland.
- Remembering that special someone on Valentine's Day, a ring, flowers, candy, or just a simple kiss.
- Getting hyped-up for the formal sweetheart ball.
- Celebrating Martin Luther King Week and Black History Week.
- Learning the hustle at disco dance lessons.
- Beneath the elms — an ice skating party.
- There's Winter all rolled into one, come on let's take a look . . .

SPRING

SPRING ON OUR CAMPUS MEANS . . .

- . . . Parent's Day and Student Appreciation Week.
- . . . Watching our step, not to break the lines of those striving pledges; so hard to cross those burning sands.
- . . . The track team, golf team, tennis team, and football team are keeping us busy.
- . . . Signing up for the dance marathon.
- . . . Awards for academic and athletic achievement.
- . . . Campaign poster, political battles, S.G.A. elections and a new Miss WSSU.
- . . . Long lines again for pre-registration for Summer School and the Fall Semester.
- . . . Conscientious study to end the academic year — typing of term papers, reports and book reviews.
- . . . Making plans for the summer.
- . . . April Showers, Bring May flowers—hay fever and . . .
- . . . With reservations made months in advance, parents and friends descend upon campus to celebrate the final rites of spring — Graduation.

SUMMER

WSSU
 SUMMER THEATRE
 PRESENTS
 OF RAIN
 July 13-14
 7:30 P.M.
 Williams Auditorium

SUMMER ON OUR CAMPUS MEANS . . .

- ... Returning to a hot but beautiful environment.
- ... Visitors on our campus from eight to eighty.
- ... Taking an afternoon siesta between classes.
- ... Hanging out under a shady tree to avoid the heat.
- ... Eating and drinking loads of ice cold refreshments. Ice Cream! Lemonade! or watermelon anyone?
- ... A lot of studying in a short period.
- ... An evening game of tennis here and there.
- ... Halters, tube tops, short pants, sun dresses, sandals, tee shirts, bikinis, swimming trunks, straw hats, bare backs, whew! Sure is hot!
- ... Taking a swim at the nearest pool.
- ... Preparing for that last and final exam.
- ... Having fun at a corn roast or jamming at an outdoor rock concert.
- ... Relaxing and enjoying music at sunset.
- ... Getting set for softball at the annual picnic.
- ... Staying up until the wee hours of morning to put the finishing touches on a project.
- ... The song has ended, but the memory lingers on. Ole SU, we love you for all seasons and for sentimental reasons . . .

Dr. H. Douglas Covington — Chancellor

Dear Graduating Senior:

I extend congratulations and best wishes to you as you reach this memorable period in your life. I feel a profound and special endearment to you since you are a member of the first class to graduate during my tenure as Chancellor at Winston-Salem State University.

During the four years that you have been a student at "WSSU," I hope that you have been consumed with a desire to utilize your full talents in an attempt to extend the frontiers of freedom and opportunity for all people to inestimable proportions. What you have learned at Winston-Salem State University is a firm foundation upon which to build further your intellectual development because the intellect must be nurtured constantly. Please remember that man enriches the quality of life by imparting excellence to all he reaches.

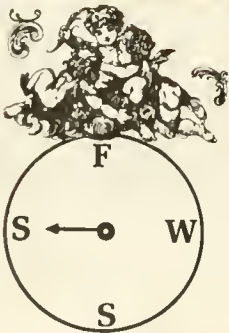

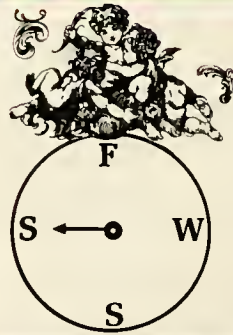

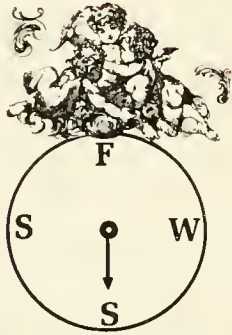

Your Alma Mater — students, faculty and staff, and trustees — wish for you every success in all your undertakings. We shall appreciate hearing from you often.

Sincerely,

H. Douglas Covington
Chancellor

HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF 1978

The graduating class of 1978 has seen many changes take place here at WSSU since our initial enrollment in 1974. First and foremost our gargantuan class size was itself a change agent. In fact, our freshman class was the largest class ever to enter WSSU. Just like the elephant being able to sleep anywhere it wants, it was so during our first days as fledging Rams and Ewes, all 900 strong. We caused the old dorms to reach way, way back for some of that old, old time religion as they moaned, groaned, and creaked under our weight. The realization that we were change agents occurred when three students were assigned to each dormitory room instead of the usual two. Secondly, Bickett Hall, which had formerly been a male dormitory, was changed to a female dormitory. And finally, Third Street Dormitory was set up to eliminate some of the overcrowding in Brown Hall.

In looking back over the past four years, another change agent not only existed in our midst, but it actually blossomed and flowered. It was none other than the heterogeneity of our class. This heterogeneity, a part of a nationwide awareness, manifest itself in the composition of our student body. As a microcosm of the larger society, we, too, were beginning to recognize the right of all people to fully participate in the pursuit of the American dream through a college education. As a result of this new awareness, our student body ages ranged from the late teens to the sixties, from the well-endowed to the handicapped, and from being a predominantly black institution to representing the four corners of the world.

A special word must be said where our handicapped students are concerned. Our being together the past four years has proven to be a most beneficial relationship. We have learned much from each other and, as a result, each of us is more aware of the richness and the diversity in the family of man. Many meaningful and provocative exchanges have transpired among us, whether we debated in Coltrane Hall or in the warm spring sun in front of Blair Hall.

A third area where the freshmen class of 1974 was to again be conduit for change was in the area of academics. Ours was the first class to have a large choice of major fields with the addition of the Urban Affairs major in the Social Science Department and the new emphasis placed on Business as a major field of study.

Our years also saw the fall of rigid dormitory rules and the word "visitation" became "THE WORD" during our sophomore and junior years. The articulate defenders of the right of adults to visit adults at any time and in any place were energetic and aggressive. They made mockery of the naiveté of campus authorities who still thought immorality could occur only in dormitories after dark. They argued that an undergraduate could commit all the immoral acts there are before the curfew deadline.

Near the end of the second semester of 1974, our class witnessed the opening and dedications eve of the Kenneth R. Williams Auditorium. Since then, our class has seen several other new buildings added to the distinctive WSSU skyline. These buildings include the new maintenance building, a new girl's dormitory, and finally but not least, the new gym, dedicated to the one and only, Clarence "Bighouse" Gaines. For the record, Coach Gaines won his 600th basketball game on December 31, 1977.

WSSU continued to enhance its academic programs during the 1975-1976 school year. The Education Department further strengthened its curriculum. Several new courses were added in Special Education. Students involved in reading education went to Public schools to assist students who had reading deficiencies.

Extra-curricular activities as far as sports are concerned were a little disappointing during the 1975-1976 school year. The Ram football team won only one game the entire season, but the basketball team lifted a student's morale by winning first place in the CIAA Southern Division.

The 1976-1977 school year was a year full of turmoil, directed primarily toward student activities. We wanted more input in this vital area of student life. However, all was not code red in 1976-1977. The bounce of the basketball provided us with more heart-rendering excitement. The Ram basketball team brought home the CIAA Championship title for the eighth time. We were also thrilled to be a part of a student body with an athletic program that afforded females an opportunity to excel.

The spring of our junior year was full of the air of anticipation. Students, faculty, and staff pondered and wondered who would be the chief administrator upon the retirement of Chancellor Kenneth R. Williams. Shortly before the end of the school year, the question of the year was answered when the Search Committee announced that Dr. H. Douglas Covington would be the new Chancellor for WSSU. He is the 6th in WSSU's history.

There are many memories that we have acquired over the past four years while attending WSSU. Our last year at Winston-Salem State University was by far the best since we have the rare experience of being seniors.

After several years of being in limbo, the Greek letter organizations found themselves. Brutality and old "frat" hubris had led to their being suspended. We are proud to say that they no longer direct the bulk of their energies toward a torturous road for the pledges. Instead, they direct the bulk of their energies toward the lofty ideals for which they were first founded. The Greek letter organizations have become more service oriented, emphasizing community consciousness and community involvement.

During our four wonderful years, we have witnessed the influx of social fraternities with their wonderfully unique names and insignias. All of them march, all of them sing and all of them proudly wear their colors.

Lest we forget, we also witnessed the exodus of monoliths and boulders in various departments. Their names read like a who's who: Dr. Charlie B. Hauser, Wilma Lassiter, Cora Massey, Louise Gaiter, Carrie Robinson and Leon Brown. At the apex of these monoliths and boulders stood the one and only, Ruth Greene, the last of a species. We loved all of you madly.

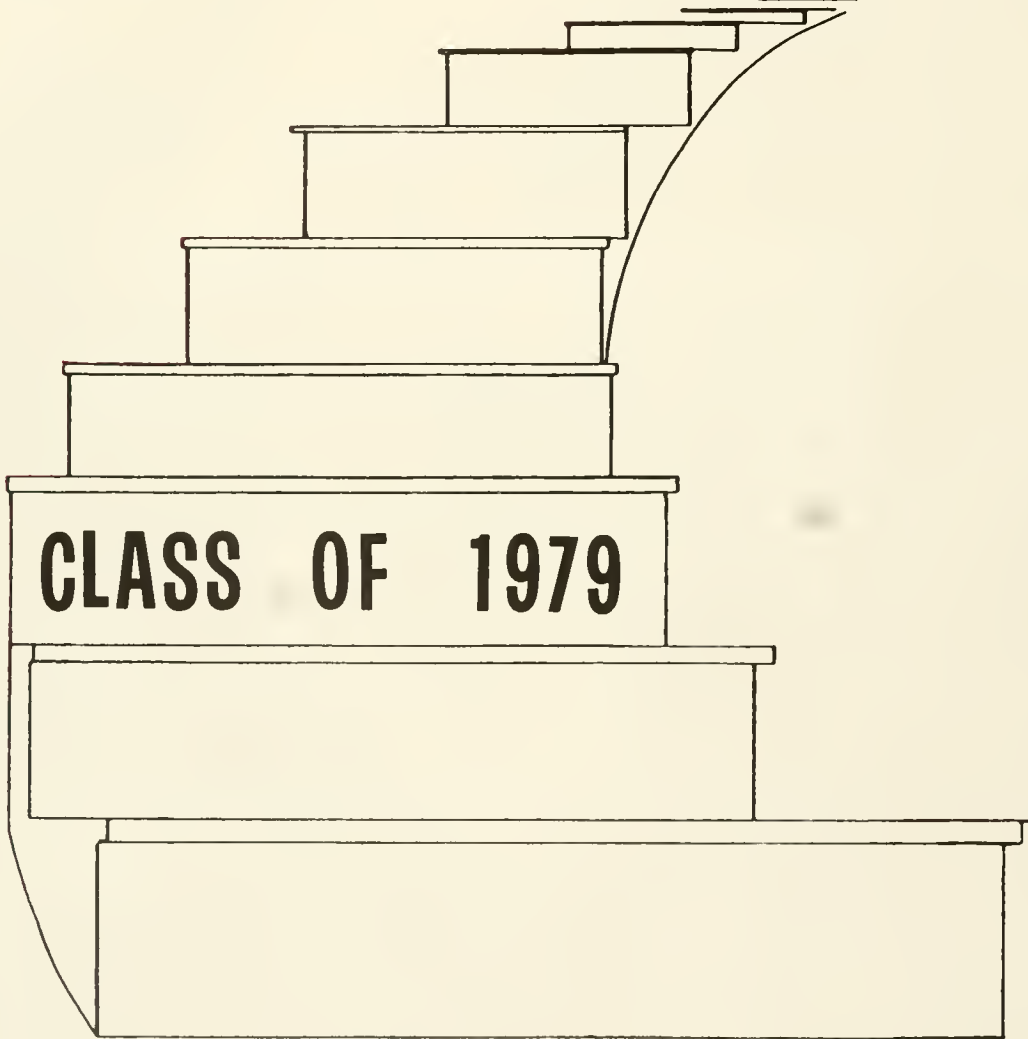

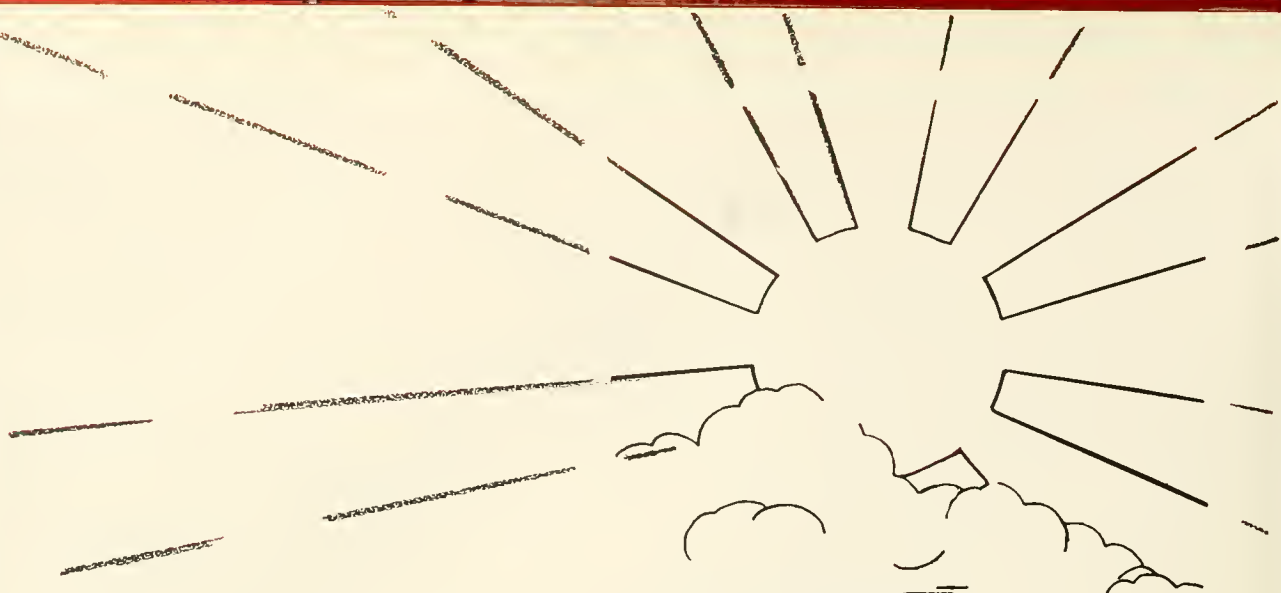

As Seniors, the Class of 1978 entered the campus of WSSU anticipating a year filled with laughter, togetherness and love. By no means did we have time to rest from our studies because we were pressing toward the day when we would march proudly and proudly march down the isle. This is what we have been working for and we shall soon realize that our past four years of hard work will soon prove beneficial to us.

We grew intellectually because we achieved many honors and had many things to be proud of. Academics never declined with us because we were above all hard workers, hard to beat and very perceptive. It always helps to have good teachers in these endeavors. We were a clan that matured socially, spiritually and physically. Religious organizations spread their ideas of Christian principles. At times, many of us seemed to put our books aside and place all our beliefs and trust in the "almighty".

Athletically speaking, one of the most positive and inspirational events happened in our Senior year. Not only did we have a winning football team for the first time in years, WE ALSO WERE UNDEFEATED DURING THE REGULAR SEASON, 11-0. This was the first undefeated season in the history of the football team. May we please have an instant replay: WE WERE UNDEFEATED. Thank you Coach Bill Hayes and your fine staff. You and the team provided us with one memory that we could never erase. This vintage football season was capped off with a close loss to Richmond, Virginia's Gold Bowl. However, all was not lost. The mighty marching Rams ruled the day as they blew South Carolina State "away".

Apart from the athletics, the stellar academicians among us were quietly but steadily gathering honors in their respective areas of concentration. Although the R. J. Reynolds Program was in its final phase, other programs and grants made it possible for a considerable number of serene students to receive grants, fellowships and other financial plans in amounts sufficient for them to give full time to their studies in such schools as Meharry, UNCC, and Ohio State.

This account, of course, has not pretended to include every memorable incident of our WSSU days. By noting a few facts and fancies it may, however, evoke in each reader a personal set of reflections and thus provide a permanent portable chunk of WSSU to which all of us, smothered by future "getting and spending," may repair at leisure to relive those days of joy and sorrow beneath the banners and emblems of our alma mater.

CLASS of 1997

American Universities and Colleges

MATTHEW J. ARMSTRONG, JR.

A native of Rocky Mount, North Carolina is a Senior majoring in history. Besides his memberships in a number of honor societies, he enjoys a host of extracurricular activities. A private and personal individual, Matthew feels that the size of WSSU has offered him a very personal environment in which to work, unlike larger universities where fewer personal relationships exist.

EUGENE O. BAILEY

Eugene, a junior biology major concentrating in basic medical sciences is from Winston-Salem, North Carolina, and is affiliated with Project Strengthen, Beta Kappa Chi, and Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity. WSSU has prepared him for an interesting social and academic life, he feels.

TROY L. BAKER

A Granite Quarry, North Carolina native majoring in business administration with a concentration in accounting, Troy is a member of the SGA, Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, and Phi Beta Lambda. He feels that more personal attention is given to students at WSSU than at larger universities.

ASONIA L. BATTLE

Ansonia, a senior majoring in Psychology with a minor in Social Welfare, is from Kinston, North Carolina, who is active in the Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority, New Argus, Psychology Club, and University Ushers. She feels WSSU has prepared her to sell the skills which she has acquired in four years.

PAMELA BLACKSTOCK

A junior early childhood education major, of Stoneville, North Carolina is a band member, active in Phi Delta Kappa, who currently holds the title of Miss Junior. She chose to attend WSSU because of its size location, and its fields of study.

BEVERLY D. BLACKWELL

Beverly, a member of the News Argus staff, fellowship choir, SOLA, and Sigma Tau Delta, is a senior from Winston-Salem, North Carolina majoring in English with a concentration in commercial arts. She feels that WSSU is fortunate to have a group of people who work together and who are not afraid to accept challenges.

CECIL B. CATES

A business administration major, concentrating in computer science, is from Hillsborough, North Carolina. He serves WSSU in a number of capacities which include his position as Vice-President of the Junior class, and his membership in Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, and DPMA. He feels WSSU has prepared him for life by making him aware of what is really happening in the outside world.

PAMELA B. CHASTEN

A junior medical technology major of Chinquapin, North Carolina feels that WSSU has provided her with better insight to the opportunities open in the area of medicine; she is affiliated with the YWCA, Project Strengthen, and the science club.

VALERIA L. CLARK

Valeria is active in Sigma Gamma Rho, Phi Delta Kappa, SNCAE, SARA, University Ushers, and North Carolina Advisory Council for Teacher Education. A senior from Winston-Salem, North Carolina, she also holds the title of Miss Homecoming, 1977-78. She feels that WSSU has prepared her to stand on her own two feet with knowledge and social assurance.

SANDRA L. EVANS

An Elm City, North Carolina native, majoring in Nursing and minoring in Psychology, is active in SNA and the Student Nurses Honor Society. To Sandra, WSSU is an institution that is small enough to function as a family unit, but large enough to allow one to grow in whatever direction he chooses.

FAITH GEATER

Faith, majoring in art with a minor in history, hails from Greensboro, North Carolina. A senior who chose WSSU for her undergraduate study because she wanted to be a part of an accredited black university. She is active in Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority, the Charm Club, Drama Guild, Rama, and the Newsletter staff.

MARY A. GREENE

Mary an Oxford, North Carolina native majoring in biology with a minor in chemistry, holds membership in the Science Club, Project Strengthen, and the Student Alumni Relations Association. WSSU has prepared her to work with others which is a much needed art in our society. She has learned to expect more of herself and thus reach higher goals.

REGINA HAILEY

Regina, a native of Charlotte, North Carolina, majoring in business administration, feels that while WSSU has taught her to become involved, the University has also taught her discipline in her social life. Regina is active in SARA, DPMA, Phi Beta Lambda, and is an Alpha Phi Alpha Sweetheart.

BAXTER C. HARRINGTON

An aggressive member of the "Rams" football squad, Baxter is a junior from Goldsboro, North Carolina, who is majoring in biology with a concentration in pre-medicine. He is active in Project Strengthen and feels that WSSU has prepared him tremendously, both for the graduate studies and the life which are before him.

OPAL HENIGHAN

Opal is a native of Monroe, North Carolina, whose major is business administration. He is an active member of DPMA, Phi Beta Lambda, SPA, and is an R. J. Reynolds Scholar. He feels that attending WSSU has been especially good for him since the University has afforded him the opportunity to receive more individualized instruction than he would have received at a larger institution.

GAIL D. HOWELL

The fact that Gail considered WSSU to be one of the better predominantly Black institutions in the U.S. was one of her reasons for deciding to attend. A junior from Goldsboro, N.C., Gail is majoring in sociology. She enjoys reading, bowling, skating, tennis, dancing, and meeting people. She is an active member of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority.

ANGLEA T. JAMES

A junior Biology major of Asheville, N.C., is active in Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, SARA, Science Club, and Project Strengthen. She feels that while WSSU has much to offer in the area of academic preparedness, it also knows how to "party."

ALICE M. JOHNSON

Alice, a junior Business major from Charlotte, N.C., concentrating in Computer Science, is an active member of AKA, Phi Beta Lambda, the tutorial program in mathematics and computer science, and the Date Processing Management Association. She feels the graduates of WSSU are impressive in their chosen fields because of the excellent undergraduate preparation they receive at WSSU.

HATTIE R. JOHNSON

Hattie, a health and physical education major concentrating in military science is a member of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Phi Delta Kappa, the University Ushers, the University Dance Group, and the Physical Education Majors Club. Hailing from Rex, N.C., Hattie asserts that WSSU has prepared her academically so that she may successfully cope with life.

REESCE D. JOYNER

Reesce, a business administration major from Winston-Salem, N.C., concentrating in Economics, feels that WSSU is a school with an academic atmosphere, but one without too many false or unrealistic objectives. He is active in Phi Beta Lambda, SPA, the Judiciary Council, and the Day Student Association.

BRENDILA LESLIE

Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, SARA, Army ROTC, and the Student Nursing Association are organizations in which Brendila is active. A junior from Raeford, N.C. majoring in nursing, she feels that she has grown emotionally, academically, and spiritually since entering WSSU. She enjoys playing piano, reading, bowling, and just meeting people.

ROSE B. MARTIN

Rose feels that WSSU has a reputation as a fine university offering a particularly good education to those who want to enter the teaching profession. A senior from Westfield, N.C., whose major is history education, Rose is a member of Phi Alpha Theta and member of her church's young adult choir.

FELECIA MASSENBURG

AKA, Phi Beta Lambda, SGA, and SNCAE are all a part of her extracurricular activities. A senior business education major of Louisburg, N.C., Felecia feels that her education has taught her to relate and understand people individually instead of collectively.

JULIAN E. MCINTYRE

Bowling, tennis, skating, swimming, and participation in community programs are all a part of his extracurricular activities. Majoring in biology, Julian is active in Project Strengthen and in Phi Beta Chi. Meeting influential people and traveling extensively are two of his favorite pastimes.

DEBRA A. MCMILLAN

A senior early childhood education major from Lumberton, N.C., feels that WSSU has afforded her the opportunity to enrich herself socially and academically and that she has grown as the University has grown. She is active with Gamma Sigma Sigma Sorority, Phi Delta Kappa, SPA, and the Youth for Christ Fellowship Choir.

RENEE L. PHILLIPS

A native of Winston-Salem, N.C., majoring in business education, is active in Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Phi Beta Lambda, SNACE, and the Day Student Association. She feels WSSU's extracurricular events offer art and culture, and have been a great asset to her overall education.

RONNIE L. RAKESTRAW

Ronnie, a senior from Charlotte, N.C., Majoring in comprehensive business administration, is an active member of Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity, the Student Government Association, Phi Beta Lambda, the Yearbook Staff, and the Senior class. He feels WSSU has the advantage of providing more cultural activities and greater opportunities for a student's success than some other universities.

TENIA PRICE ROBERSON

An active member of the SNA, Interdenominational Choir For Christ Fellowship Choir, Gamma Sigma Sigma Sorority, and the Student Nurse's Honor Society, Tenia chose WSSU for undergraduate study because of its accredited School of Nursing. She is a senior from Eden, N.C.

JOANN M. SAWYER

A junior nursing major from Winston-Salem, N.C. feels that WSSU has prepared her to interact with many different types of people from various backgrounds and to seek advanced training in her profession. She is a member of Delta Sigma Theta, Student Nursing Honor Society, SNA, and the Veteran's Club.

MARY L. SIMMONS

A junior business administration major concentrating in computer science, Mary is from Maydon, NC, and is active with the DPMA, University Ushers, Phi Beta Lambda, Flower Club, SGA, and Bickett Hall Council. WSSU according to her, has an atmosphere that is quite different from other campuses; it has an atmosphere which is more like that of a large family.

PAULA D. SMITH

A junior from Goldsboro, N. C., majoring in sociology with a minor in psychology, is an active member of the SGA, Sociology Club, Administrative Council, Grovettes, and Special Activities Committee. She feels WSSU has enabled her to communicate and interact with others, and to examine her inner self.

DIANNE STRONG

Majoring in psychology, she is a junior from Charlotte, N. C., and is active in Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Sociology Club, Judiciary Council representative, Psychology Club, and the Tutorial program. WSSU offers her to feel as a person instead of a number as opposed to larger institutions.

ROBERT L. WEEKS

Robert is a physical education major, a history minor, from Charlotte, N.C. He is a member of the "Rams" football team, Brother to Brother Sister to Sister, and ROTC. He feels that WSSU has given him the opportunity to acquire the knowledge which is vital to his advancement, socially and academically, in today's society.

CYNTHIA E. WILLIAMS

A Greenville, N.C., native majoring in intermediate education, with a concentration in reading, Cynthia feels that the social advantage she has over students attending other institutions is the closeness and true school spirit that larger institutions may lack. She is active in Phi Delta Kappa, SNAE, and SARA.

SHARON E. YOUNG

A junior early childhood education major, Sharon is active in the Marching Band, Concert Band, Jazz Band, Handbell Choir, and Woodwind Ensemble. This aggressive Texan feels that WSSU has taught her much about people in general and the different kinds of obstacles she will face in the working world.

In Memory Of

Dr. Joseph N. Patterson 1917-1978

and his twenty-six years of service to this University

A TRIBUTE TO DR. JOSEPH N. PATTERSON
By Dr. Howard Thurman

The time and the place of a man's life is the time and the place of his body. But the significance of his life is as far reaching as his dedication, his commitment, and his sense of purpose can make it. It is a special privilege for me to share in the celebration of the life of our friend, Dr. Patterson, and to mark his leave-taking from our midst. There are those present on this occasion who knew him far more intimately and longer than I did; who came directly under his influence as a teacher, guide, and friend; or who shared ties of blood and affection. Memories of him sit side by side with you as you remember other days, other places, and other times. I dare not intrude where lights of passage do not give me leave.

Two years ago it was my enrichment to have worked with him in an intensive seminar, to share the hospitality of our home for five days. It was here that the vast stretches of his mind and spirit became available to us all as he shared insights from his treasures of scholarship and seeking. We were all warmed by the fires of his learning and his erudition. But this is not the secret of the man; rather was that to be found in the warmth of his heart, his spiritual dedication, the contagion of his laughter and the furrow in his brow, announcing the revealing of a rare and significant insight. His love of life readied him for the launching of his spirit into the eternal.

In the closing pages of Pilgrim's Progress, Bunyan describes the Land of Beulah in which the pilgrims enjoy a brief period of rest after the hardships of their pilgrimage and wait for the summons to enter the Celestial City. After this, says Bunyan, "I beheld until they were come into the Land of Beulah, where the Sun shineth Night and Day. Here, because they were weary, they betook themselves a while to rest. And because this Country was common for Pilgrims, and because the Orchards and Vineyards that were here belonged to the King of the Celestial Country, therefore, they were licensed to make bold with any of his things. But a little while soon refreshed them" and they were on their way. "Then the Pilgrims got up and walked to and fro; but how were their Ears now filled with Heavenly Noises, and their eyes delighted with Celestial Visions! In this place there was a Record kept of the names of them that had been Pilgrims of old, and a History of all the famous Acts that they had done. After this it was noised abroad that Mr. Valiant-for-truth was taken with a Summons by the same Post as the other, and had this for a Token with a Summons by the same Post as the other, and had this for a Token that the Summons was true, That his Pitcher was broken at the Fountain. When he understood it, he called for his Friends, and told them of it. Then said he, I am going to my Fathers, and tho' with great difficulty I am got hither, yet now I do not repent me of all the Trouble I have been at to arrive where I am. My Sword I give to him that shall succeed me in my Pilgrimage, and my Courage and Skill to him that can get it. My Marks and Scars I carry with me, to be a witness for me that I have fought his Battles who now will be my Rewarder. When the day that he must go hence was come, many accompanied him to the Riverside, into which as he went he said, Death, where is thy Sting? And as he went down deeper he said, Grave where is thy Victory? So he passed over, and all the Trumpets sounded for him on the other side. But glorious it was to see how the open Region was filled with Horses and Chariots, with trumpeters and Pipers, with Singers and Players on stringed Instruments to welcome the Pilgrims as they went up, and followed one another in at the beautiful Gate of the City.

A Day in the Life of the SGA President . . .

An abstract graphic design composed of thick black lines forming a large, irregular shape. The shape is composed of several interconnected geometric forms, including triangles and rectangles. A prominent feature is a large, solid black triangle at the top, which appears to be part of a larger structure. Below it, there are several rectangular and trapezoidal shapes, some of which are nested or overlapping. The overall effect is that of a stylized, geometric logo or emblem.

Miss Homecoming 1977

Miss Valeria Clark

The student body lifts their heads and in great respect to our 1977 through 1978 Miss Homecoming, Miss Valeria L. Clark. She comes to us from Winston-Salem, North Carolina. Born under the astrological sign of Leo, Miss Clark is a senior majoring in Early Childhood Education.

HOMECOMING 1977

“Roots of Excellence”

Ramsey Lewis got off and so did our queens on their night of Essence. Showing off their natural beauty, they made their debut to Ramland.

Red
And White
Day

Rams deck out in the traditional red and white to set the stage for an exciting homecoming weekend. The mock funeral and the mini parade give everyone—young and old, the opportunity to clown around.

"Jump Back, Boogie Down"

A colorful parade of marching music and beautiful girls begins the big day. Homecoming is here! All the preparation of floats and cars, the long band practices, and shopping for new clothes is worth this day.

It was a beautifully, colorful RAM Saturday afternoon in "de citee". The stadium roared as the team scored and the band played on.

Gold Bowl '77

It was a cool clear day
When the Rams came to play
in Richmond, VA.
The Rams were in town
at the Sheraton, Holiday Inn
Executive, 8 days . . .
and all around.
The game was the Gold Bowl and even though the weather was cold it didn't stop
the Ram's spirited soul.
As we neared the stadium
there was great excitement and an air of victorious anticipation as the fans set waiting.
WSSU's marching Rams entered the stadium causing a stir
and all I can say is . . .
that you should've been there.
The band styled in the Gold Bowl getting down
with that famous,

Ram sound.
We all cheered, hollered and yelled.
The Rams are "BAD"
and that's what we went to Richmond to tell.
The whistle blew
to begin the game
and the Ram's began to show what they could do.
Passing, fumbling
and Blount lost a shoe.
The Rams put on a magnificent show,
Bolton ran, Blount passed, Newsome blocked it took all South Carolina had for the Rams to be stopped.
At games end . . .
WSSU—7, South Carolina—10.
Coach Hayes
The Man of Dreams and Visions led the Rams to number one in the CIAA Division
and on to the Gold Bowl.
It was a cool clear day
when the Rams went to play
in Richmond, VA.

To the overall Football staff and players who were not mentioned; thanks for the great year of '77 to always be remembered by all us us.

James I. Wilkins Dec. 3—77

A CHAMPION AMONG CHAMPIONS

His name is Henry Taylor, but he is internationally known as "Buddy". Buddy is the athletic trainer of WSSU. A native of Richmond, Virginia, Buddy began his career as a trainer with a semi-pro football team, the Richmond Rams in 1948. He was next associated with the Richmond Rebels from 1949 to 1950.

Buddy expanded his athletic training expertise during his stint in the military.

Entering the Army in 1951, he served as Post Athletic Trainer until 1953 at Fort Campbell. Upon receiving his honorable discharge, Buddy entered the Chicago College of Swedish Massage. Though accumulating much practical experience, Buddy still wanted to realize one of his life-long goals: to be the proud recipient of a college degree. In 1953, he entered Morgan State University in Baltimore, Maryland where he received his B.S. in Health and Physical Education. He furthered his formal training at Indiana University where he received the Masters Degree in Professional Athletic Training in 1958.

Armed with two degrees and ample demonstrated skills, Buddy accepted the position of Head Trainer at Virginia Union University. He served in this capacity from 1958 to 1961. In 1961 he moved to Tennessee State University in Nashville. There he had the opportunity to work with many future Olympic Gold Medal Winners in Track and Field, namely Ralph Boston, Wilma Rudolph, Edith McGuire, Madaline Manning and Wyomia Tyus. His experiences at Tennessee State University thrust Buddy into the national and international spotlight. He is highly regarded and respected by his peers.

His rise to international recognition began in 1967, when he was the American emissary serving as trainer for the United States teams at the "Little Olympics" in Mexico City, Mexico. He served in the same capacity in 1968 at the Olympic Games in Mexico City and again at the 1972 Olympic Games in Munich, Germany. He also served as trainer for the Maccabiah Games in Tel Aviv, Israel and again in 1973. In 1974 Buddy joined the faculty of WSSU in the position of athletic trainer. Additionally, Buddy is co-author of a very fine and widely used book entitled: Training and Conditioning of Athletes: Manual for Trainers and Physicians, (published in 1970)

WSSU is indeed fortunate to have a gentleman of Buddy Taylor's stature on its faculty.

Buddy is married to the former Mildred Thomas and has two children, Monty 15 and Rodney 9.

BUDDY THE RAM FAMILY SALUTES YOU.

HIGHLIGHTS OF BUDDY'S CAREER

1967 Served as Trainer for United States "Little Olympics" Mexico City, Mexico.

1968 Served as Trainer for United States Olympic Team Mexico City, Mexico.

Rams Down Fayetteville

Gaines Gets Win No. 600

By Mike Mulhern
Staff Reporter

The sky-high Winston-Salem State Rams gave Bighouse Gaines reason to celebrate the New Year last night, presenting their coach with his 600th win, 87-79 over CIAA rival Fayetteville State in the Holiday Festival.

The Rams' eighth straight win was keyed by sophomore Reginald Gaines who tossed in a game-high 27 points and added 13 rebounds.

"It's a good feeling," said a smiling Gaines as he accepted congratulations after the game. "I'm glad to get over with, though. I just hope we can win 18 more in a row."

The Rams controlled the game from the outset and led 19-13 at the 10:30 mark. Fayetteville came back to knot the score at 19 before Carlos Terry led a four-minute spree, that saw the Rams outscore their opponents 14-4 and take a 10-point lead less than five minutes before the half.

Everybody was pretty anxious about win No. 500," said Gaines, recalling that milestone which he reached Jan. 9, 1973, with a 65-61 victory over North Carolina Central. That was the era of Funny Kitt, Joe Hooker and Earl Wilhams.

But between No. 500 and No. 600 there just hasn't been that much excitement.

"No. 700? If I continue coaching I don't think it'll be that much of a problem. We've got a good reputation here at Winston-Salem State, and we have decent kids.

"And if you look at a lot of the other guys with the real outstanding records and check out who they play well, I've never opened up a season in December playing against a bunch of patsies." Gaines pointed out with pride. Getting hundreds of victories in small college basketball is often tougher than doing the same thing in the major college ranks, Gaines added, making reference to the Rochester and other easy wins with which Atlantic Coast Conference coaches frequently pad their schedules.

The 54-year-old Gaines, who has been at Winston-Salem State since 1946, following his graduation from Morgan State, has won just about everything there is to win in the small college ranks. In his 31 seasons here, he has taken his Rams to the CIAA basketball tournament a record 25 times, his teams have played in the league's championship finals a record 14 times, and he has a record eight championship trophies in the Whitaker Gym showcase. And, of course, the Rams won the NCAA Division II national title in 1967 with Earl "the Pearl" Monroe.

About the only thing left to win is the NAIA national tournament in Kansas City, the country's oldest tourney. Guilford and Gardner-Webb, as usual, will try to block the road, but Winston-Salem State now appears to have the strongest small college team in District 26.

Gaines, like North Carolina's Dean Smith, is not always the man he is pictured to be. "Bobby Vaughn at Elizabeth City calls me the Godfather, and Robert Moore at Virginia Union says the CIAA tournament out to be renamed the Bighouse Gaines Memorial Classic, and I guess there are some others who call me Big Nasty." Gaines said about his image. "But I think one of my secrets is that I can relate to the kids, and, you know, the kids react to the way the coach reacts.

"A lot of people think I want to be a dictator. But I'm just like all the rest of the coaches — I just want to take my fair advantage well, maybe unfair advantage, if I can get it."

Gaines in public appears to be a calm, grandfatherly figure. But on the sidelines and in the lockerroom he can be as mean and ferocious as he feels the situation demands. He is, above all, a great intimidator, constantly correcting errant referees and players and using to good advantage the powerful, almost legendary aura that surrounds him.

His card prowess at poker and tank carries over to the courts, where he psychs opposing coaches as much by what he doesn't do as what he does. He abhors being the first man to call a time-out, as though that would be admitting a flaw. "You have to do your homework before you ever get to the court," he reminds.

He handles personality problems among his players with unevenness, harshly riding one player while seeming to ignore another's misplay. When a particular problem appears hard to crack, he offers the problem a long ride in his red Ford LTD, to talk over the woes of the world, to loosen up the situation.

"You can't have kids on the team who tend to second-guess you," Gaines says, with a large dose of annoyance. And he implies that sportswriters who second-guess him are fair game for a ploy from his huge bag of mental tricks.

See Gaines, Page D2

Now that Gaines has joined that magic circle with Adolph Rupp, Phog Allen, Henry Iba, Jody Wooden and Ed Diddle, he feels those men are open to scrutiny. And, while he refers to the impressiveness of Rupp in several of the clinics Gaines attended during the late Forties and early Fifties, he points out that Rupp, among others, racked up hundreds of victories before the country really became saturated with basketball enthusiasts.

"I could learn more basketball in half an hour with Rupp than most guys could learn in two days with anyone else," Gaines declared. "But, with all due respect to the man, nobody else in the Southeastern Conference was even coaching basketball seriously until about 10 years ago. Rupp worked at basketball while everybody else played at it."

Co-Editor's Message

Dear Rams,

After a year of hard work and long hours I'm happy to say that we have completed a yearbook that I feel is representative of our university, and the people who make up the Ram family.

I have enjoyed working with the students and faculty members in this endeavor; this experience has enhanced my sense of responsibility, and gives me the opportunity to grow spiritually and socially.

Sincerely,
Ronnie L. Rakestraw
Co-Editor of "Ram"

Editor's Message

Congratulations and best wishes to the class of '78. The yearbook staff, faculty, administration, and alumni have worked overtime, between time, and above and beyond the call of duty, to produce a yearbook that captured and highlighted all the memorable happenings during your college career. Our theme is "A University for All Seasons," and I sincerely hope that you will cherish your yearbook for a lifetime.

The position as Editor-in-Chief has lead to many rewarding experiences and lasting relationships with so many different people of various back grounds. Had it not been for the yearbook, I may not have ever had the opportunity to get to know many of these people on a personal basis, and attend functions that contributed to my growth as a member of the WSSU family.

The novelty and newness of working with the yearbook soon wore off once we got into the nuts and bolts of actual production. There were times when we were very pleased and even astonished at the work accomplished as a result of burning the midnight oil. However, everything was not a bed of roses for us this year. There were times when we thought that we had run completely out of seeds for thought. Through these times, I learned to be tolerant, patient, aggressive, and assertive. Now I can say, with great relief, WE MADE IT! To all of you who gave unselfishly of yourselves, ideas, time, and talents, I sincerely thank you from the depths of my heart, and I want you to know that I could not have done it without you.

Gratefully yours,
Selma White
